

Resources for reconciliation

From the Anglican Journal May 2021 edition:

<https://www.anglicanjournal.com/five-years-after-the-trc-report-reflections-on-reconciliation/>

KAIROS Canada website:

<https://www.kairoscanada.org/what-we-do/indigenous-rights>

Reconciliation Canada:

<https://reconciliationcanada.ca/>

<https://reconciliationcanada.ca/back-pocket-plan/>

On Canada:

<https://oncanadaproject.ca/settlerstakeaction>

Education:

Indigenous Canada – course offered by University of Calgary

<https://www.ualberta.ca/admissions-programs/online-courses/indigenous-canada/index.html>

From an Indigenous perspective, this course explores key issues facing Indigenous peoples today from a historical and critical perspective highlighting national and local Indigenous-settler relations.

A 12 module, free online course, offered by the University of Alberta. Each lecture runs from 40 – 90 minutes and is done at your own pace, highly recommended.

Books to read:

Five Little Indians, by Michelle Good. This novel won the Governor General's award for fiction. Michelle Good is an Indigenous lawyer who lives in Kamloops. Her mother is a residential school survivor. Her legal career has been dedicated to advocating for the rights of residential school survivors.

Indian Horse, by Richard Wagamese

Halfbreed, by Maria Campbell,

21 Things you may not know about the Indian Act, by Bob Joseph

The Lesser Blessed, by Richard Van Camp

Seven Fallen Feathers, by Tanya Talaga