

Additional Indigenous ally resources

Many people in Canada are looking for ways to donate to Indigenous communities following the horrific discovery of hundreds of unmarked graves at residential schools across the country. For those looking to help, there are a number of wonderful charities, causes, and funds, where money will go toward helping to support Indigenous communities across the country.

Here's a BlogTO article listing 10 organizations you can donate to.

For other personal and political actions you can take to make a difference, here are some useful sites:

- A list from Indigenous Corporate Training Inc
- A blog by Bob Joseph, author of 21 things you May not Know About the Indian Act.
- The On Canada Project
- 94 in 94 campaign which invites Canadians to read the 94 calls to action in the Truth and Reconciliation report. One each day, leading up to Orange Shirt Day on September 30

GOOD TO KNOW:

Technical Communications Administrator

We are looking for a dynamic team player to join our service production team. After a year and half toiling behind the scenes making sure our online and hybrid services run without a hitch, David Jenkins, Jeff Bowden and Stephen Hutchinson are ready to help someone else shine.

The new person will be responsible for coordinating and executing the virtual and hybrid worship, and other Incarnation events

Take a look at the job description and forward to someone you think may be interested.

Stewardship update

Hello and thank you to everyone who participated in a stewardship event so far this year. We exercised countless hours, lost a few pounds, and reduced our LCBO expenses, in addition to raising $2,200 for the Church. Well done!

Remember to send Anne Moniuk a note (bookkeeping@incarnationchurch.ca) when you specifically make a donation related to stewardship activities so we can see how we are doing against the budget.

We received 63 responses to our survey with 94% saying they would maintain or increase their donations in 2021. Thank you! Let us know if you need a new PAD or, you can email transfer to donations@incarnationchurch.ca.

What percentage of respondents to the survey do you think felt their Return on Investment of time, talent and treasure was positive -> very positive? Watch for the answer next week.

We are starting to harvest!!

Thanks to everyone who is helping tend our garden. The results are showing and we're seeing delicious veggies growing.

Incarnation's Prayer Team Prayer works when we work it!

We are excited and honoured to be able to pray for your requests. We wanted to inform you that in addition to the public, Sunday intercessions which are sent to the church office, there is another immediate option.

If you would prefer your personal prayer request(s) be private, and not read publicly, then simply forward your confidential request(s) to Randy at associate@incarnationchurch.ca

Should you have any questions please feel free to also email Randy. Thank you!

Anglican Family Hub

In response to COVID-19, Children, Youth and Family ministry leaders from the Diocese of Niagara created an online one stop hub for families. Not having that village of extended family, parishioners, teachers, peers, and community supports has impacted families in a way that needed immediate assistance.
